Windrun Wine 2015 Sta. Rita Hills Pinot Noir garners 90 points from Wine Spectator.

We're excited to share with you the review from Wine Spectator Magazine:

"Windrun Pinot Noir Sta. Rita Hills, Vintage Selection No. 12, 2015.

Score: 90 | $33

*Cherry, currant and raspberry flavors are supported by caressing tannins. The silky texture lingers on the finish, with Asian spice and licorice notes. Drink now, through 2022. 359 cases made. - K.M."

From one of the finest vintages in recent memory, our 20 month barrel-aged limited-production bottling is from fruit grown on a steep, north-facing slope above the Santa Ynez River. Located mid-appellation, this vineyard features well-drained, loam-and-gravel soils and plantings of four renowned Dijon Pinot Noir clones, including 667 and 115.

Windrun is nationally distributed and carried in better restaurants and hotels, fine wine and liquor shops, and select grocery stores.
